STATEMENT

Having reviewed Plaintiff's IFP application, the Court finds that she is unable to pay the $350 filing fee. See 28 U.S.C. §1915(a). Plaintiff is not currently employed, receives only $768 every two weeks in unemployment benefits, and has no assets or savings. She is granted leave to proceed in forma pauperis.

Plaintiff has not indicated in her motion for appointment of counsel whether she made any efforts to retain counsel, the most important component of the application. See Kurap v. Snyder, 2000 WL 796115 (N.D. Ill. Jun. 19, 2000). Even if this were not the case, this Court will be better equipped to address the possible appointment of counsel after the responsive pleading has been filed. See id. Hence the motion for appointment of counsel is denied without prejudice to its potential reassertion later on.
